

CryptoHuman Foundation

Whether you worked on cryptography projects in the 90s, was an early bitcoin adopter in 2013, a buyer in 2017, or today is your first introduction to cryptocurrencies - we are the first generation to develop this technology. You are a CryptoHuman!

It is our prerogative to make sure adoption is beneficial to the world. In the last thousand years we have seen the dangers of too much centralized power. In the last 30 years we witnessed the issues of privatized tech companies and felt the bleakness of a world without privacy. In the next 30 years we need to make sure the beasts of industrialism, capitalism, and countries are tamed before they destroy the environment and society.

The Crypto Humans Foundation is an experiment to organize a group of 10,000 early adopters through NFTs into a powerful organization with a vision to better the world. We are the reflexive modernity - a targeted response to address the major issues caused by the institutions of modernity. We are connected by our collective understanding that certain things must change for humanity to thrive.

Power of Art

The power of art has been utilized for centuries. Beautiful paintings memorize bloody and transformative events, songs exalt heroes and struggles, funeral orators shine value to sacrifice. However because of its physical nature art has been mostly limited. Paintings took time to travel, songs had to be sung, and all could more or less be burned. Computers and the internet transformed this but the possibilities for central censorship were almost instantly available and used. The most important art often found itself on the margins.

Blockchain technology may be the catalyst that finally gives art the power to overcome greed and evil. Today, artists can store their art on the blockchain making them censorship resistant and increasingly powerful. NFTs give the ability for communities to form around the ideas encapsulated in the aesthetics of the art and smart contracts. For Crypto Humans this value is fighting greed and evil across the world.

Crypto Humans

CryptoHumans are BEP-721 tokens that live on the Binance Smartchain. Each has a unique hash that corresponds to a membership to the CryptoHuman Foundation.

It is important to note that ownership of a CryptoHuman is solely a declaration to fight greed and evil across the world. It does not entitle the owner to any type of financial reward, dividend, or access. Any funds raised by the Foundation are to be used to fight greed and evil across the world, not for the personal enrichment of members.

It is highly frowned upon for any government, non-profit, corporation, LLC, or any other type of non-human institution to purchase and hold CryptoHumans. While you may initially mint and hold multiple CryptoHuman please only hold a single one by 2025.

Goal

The goal is to have a community of about 10,000 individuals passionate to improve the world. Most of you will prize your CryptoHuman as a commitment to your values. Some may become more involved and form the community and technology to transform the world. Below is a possible template.

Auctions

To make sure our community continues to grow and is adequately funded, a new CryptoHuman will be minted and auctioned to members each day. This process begins when the lowest price for a CryptoHuman is  $\text{€}5.0$ . All proceeds from auctions go to the Foundation's DAO.

DAO

Profits from auctions will be invested by a Decentralized Autonomous Organization (DAO) that is equally owned by each member of the Foundation. The DAO will have two phases: The growth phase of the DAO will be primarily focused on improving the fund size and the foundation's power and influence. The active phase is the focus on the core objective: fight greed and evil across the world. This shall be done primarily by funding initiatives and people that protect the environment.

Metaverse

Meeting IRL is not always feasible for a secret organization so we will have a beautiful Metaverse for members of the Foundation. We can meet, hangout, share ideas, and plot to improve the world. There will be no ads or companies to spoil the fun.

Leadership

While decentralization is awesome it does have some limitations at getting stuff done and having a clear vision. If our project is successful here are the categories we expect leaders to rise in.

1. Community People to lead the community, provide events, help with issues, and more. Their character is inclusive and they are central to making us thrive together.
2. DAO Programming and financial geniuses to create and launch our DAO that invests all the proceeds from daily auctions. In today's world, money is almost directly correlated with power and growing our treasury is one of the primary ways the Foundation will increase its power.
3. Metaverse Visionaries that see the future and want to build an awesome place for the entire Foundation. We live far from one another and so we need a place that we can all access and change the world from.

4. Security Hackers and security professionals who understand that the future blurs the line between the digital and physical. They are to enact what is needed to provide security to all members of the Foundation.

Ownership of a CryptoHuman provides a vote in who the community leaders are. However for this project to succeed the leaders will need to arise organically from the community.

TL;DR We tether on the edge of chaos. Perhaps the last generation of classic-humans, those who attempt to dominate Nature through brute force and destruction. Our actions decide if our children will live in an era of enlightenment or darkness.
